Dear Authors, There are now two thoughtful reviews of your manuscript for you to consider. Interactive discussion will remain open until the 2nd of February. However, you are free to reply to the reviews and detail any rebuttals as you please. Note that as AE, I am particularly interested in your responses to RC1's comments on geochronology and justifications around some of the broader interpretations made at times in the paper. Additionally, RC2 also has some comments over the interpretations that should be addressed. Kind regards Dan Parsons
