Dear authors,

we have received two reviews now, and both referees are largely positive about the paper. There are numerous requests for clarification and more details on the data, and suggestions for additional discussion and for improving language. I do not see the need to elaborate on anything; the reviewers' comment seem to be clear and detailed. Overall, the necessary revisions seem to be moderate to me.

Please submit a revised manuscript with a detailed rebuttal letter.

I am looking forward to seeing the revisions,
